LAWLESSNESS

There is deep significance in the fact that in at least three publications of nation-wide circulation, within a short time, have appeared articles claiming in the first place that the United States stands in a class by itself in the matter of lawlessness, one writer placing the blame not on police or courts, but on the people as a whole,—a lowered and lowering moral tone.

One writer who claims his statement is based on actual figures obtained from reliable source, says that the money lost to legitimate business due to lawless acts during last year, equalled the total cost of running the U. S. Government,—namely three billion, five hundred million dollars.

Another writer points out that while in London, England, the homicides last year totaled sixty-two, in the city of Chicago, not much more than half the size of London in population, deaths from this cause mounted to three hundred and thirty-seven. Several years ago Chief Justice Taft, then President, said, "The administration of criminal law in the United States is a disgrace to civilization." Facts like those given above prove there has been no improvement in this respect in recent years.

One writer has said the people are to blame for this lawlessness. In the last analysis this is correct, for in a republic the people are supreme. Judge John W. Goff of New York City, views the matter from another angle. He says, "the cardinal fault in the administration of justice today is the lack of promptness in enforcement of law." May we suggest that too many of those whose position qualifies them for formers and leaders of public opinion along all high and worthy lines, instead of being law abiding in all cases, choose what laws they will obey.

PARENTS' RESPONSIBILITY

Parents who have children of a vivid imagination should exercise scrupulous care in seeing that this is guided into the right channels. If it is not, disaster is likely to overtake the youth that will not only handicap and perhaps wreck his career, but also bring sorrow to parents.

Children of today are allowed too free a hand, according to the way of thinking of many people; allowed to carry out their own ideas or rather left to act as desire dictates. Now, this is putting into the hands of the youth, something that they have not learned to use. Impulses or desire where rightly thought out become worthy action; but if followed for the sake of adventure, it more often ends in remorse.

Why do not parents endeavor to make home so alluring that children will not seek pleasures elsewhere. For instance, at the movies; in the public dance hall, and even in the reading of books, in which the appeal is to the lower senses only by which the imagination of the youth is turned in the wrong channels.

Now, there are beautiful motion picture shows. There are most fascinating dancing parties and wonderful books, the latter legion.

We are not condemning the movies, nor the dance, nor books, but rather the lack of discrimination on the part of the parents in allowing (or rather in not knowing), the greater part of the time, what is occupying the attention of their children, when out of the home or the school room.

A boy or girl must have something in which to be interested if he or she is a normal child, but it will be the more the pity if the imagination is allowed to run riot; if the thing in which they become interested is not what will develop character. The youth of today has a wonderful opportunity to be the finest man or woman that this world has ever produced, for he is living in a remarkable age. The parents, however, have a great responsibility in guiding this wonderful human product of this century, into the right channels.

How many parents are assuming this in a whole-hearted, unselfishness of their own comfort, toward the youth of today?

REVISION OF SENATE RULES

Both the matter contained in the speech delivered last week by Vice-President Dawes, and the manner in which it was delivered, may continue to be sharply criticized and hotly condemned by those who were sharply caressed to task, but he has the satisfaction of knowing he has the hearty approval of the great mass of citizens. He voiced in a dramatic way what has been for many years the ideas of all sorts and conditions of men familiar with public affairs.

The Evening Transcript has taken pains to look over the editorial pages of all the big dailies of the country and finds that with a single exception, these mirrors of public opinion heartily endorse Vice-President Dawes' call for a change in Senate rules, and join with him in the request to take from the hands of a minority,—a single member of that body in fact,—ability to thwart the will of the majority and completely block the business of the day or hour.

There is another point worth considering. If Gen. Dawes considered it his duty to present this matter to the body over which he is to preside for the succeeding four years, he must speak then or "ever after hold his peace." He has neither voice or vote on any business presented in the Senate, except to cast the deciding vote in case of a tie vote among the senators.

Congress was created by the organic law of the country. It was given a free hand in all matters of procedure, but was created to transact the business of the country. Any rule or method of procedure that hinders the orderly performing of that duty should either be voluntarily abolished by the body directly concerned or forced to do so by the will of the voters of the republic.

On March 15 the Boston & Maine R. R. will begin operating the line between North Adams and Troy, N. Y., with a two-car gasoline motor-driven train as an experiment in reducing running expenses on short lines, passengers arriving in the steam train from Boston transferring at North Adams to this new means of transporting passengers and express matter.

We see by the report of a meeting in New York City in a Boston daily, that the metropolis has a "Jolly Young Men's Club," composed of sixty-five members, whose ages range from 90 to 107 years. At the last meeting the motion was made to raise admission age to 95 years, "for fear increasing membership would curtail present privileges." Pending final action the meeting adjourned.

ALL GOVERNMENT

— OWNED UTILITIES
Are Run At a Deficit—Prof. Pupin Gives Reasons.

Speaking at a luncheon of the New York Rotary Club, Prof. Pupin of Columbia University assailed the principle of government ownership of utilities, claiming that the necessary expert knowledge is lacking and pointing to the experience of Europe in that respect. Prof. Pupin said:

"Nobody will deny the knowledge which enables us in trade competitions to do things just a little better than anybody else, and in times of war to establish our superiority over the enemy by superior skill, intelligence and scientific organization, but there is another aspect in the recent activities of our scientific and industrial organizations, and it is this, the inventor and scientist declared. 'The great achievement in cooperation between science and industries is a living illustration of what can be accomplished when the great problems of science and of the industries are entrusted to the intelligent care of trained hands and superior intelligence. This illustration will soon demonstrate, even to a mediocre mind, that it is not true that any man can do any job, as those who control political patronage seem to think. There are many, many things which Tom, Dick and Harry cannot do; they lack both intelligence and training.'

The weakest point in democracy has always been lack of appreciation of expert knowledge. Railroads, telegraphy, telephone and radio broadcasting, electrical lighting and electrical transmission of power are certainly public utilities, but the intelligent people of the United States will never consent that these things, requiring an enormous amount of expert knowledge, be placed under Government ownership. The machinery of our Government or of any other form of government known to many today is utterly incapable of handling technical problems which require the highest type of training applied to the highest type of intelligence.

All of these public utilities are full of complex technical problems which cannot and never were intended to be handled by any Government. In Europe we see that where there is governmental ownership the utilities are being run at heavy deficits. And only recently Mussolini has said that he wants to get away from Government ownership and adopt the American system."

recently built "Monitor" and the confederate armored frigate called the "Merrimac." The "Monitor" was the invention of Mr. Ericson and brought about a complete revolution in naval construction that was world-wide,—entirely eliminating vessels of wood construction.

The father of Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell was practically the sole owner of the "Monitor" when it engaged in its first naval battle, for the acceptance and paying for the same by the U. S. government, depended on whether or not it could make good under the supreme test of a naval battle.

Under conditions such as these, there could be no question as to Mr. Bushnell's knowledge of all the smallest detail of construction and operation. During his residence in Arlington as pastor of the Orthodox Congregational Church, Mr. Bushnell gave this story before organizations here and doubtless in other places. He has now produced this in convenient printed form and it has been our pleasure to receive a copy. We presume Mr. Bushnell will furnish copies on application. It is an interesting story worth a permanent place in one's memory.

DISCIPLINE

Probably nothing is better for boys and girls than discipline, yet parents refrain from this often out of mistaken kindness. They are soft at heart, and it is not easy to hurt children.

It is just helping them to grow straight and strong, in order that they may have the mental and moral stamina necessary to struggle with a pretty difficult world.

But there is another side to discipline. It must be kindly meant. Boys and girls must come to feel that parents have some real interest in them other than a desire to make them toe the mark.

A youngster should learn, through the personality of the parent, that he is not being made to toe the mark just because it pleases the parent to have him do so. He should be taught by much patience that he is given discipline because his parents want him to grow into a useful and successful man. (Our Paper).

N. E. HOTEL MEN'S EXPOSITION
To Be Held In Boston; Week of May 11.

From Boston comes the interesting announcement that the week of May 11 to May 16 will see staged in that city the first annual New England Hotel Men's Exposition under the personal direction of the nationally known industrial manager, Chester I. Campbell, and under the combined auspices of the New England Hotel Association and the Boston Hotel Association. The Exposition will be held in Mechanics Building, famous for more than a half a century as the home of expositions, conventions and exhibitions, the announcement says, and will take second place to no similar Exposition held any where in the country.

Chester I. Campbell, who will have personal charge of the Exposition, has a long and enviable record as a successful organizer of industrial expositions all over the country. For 23 years he has been successfully identified with the nationally famous Boston Automobile Show. He served as director of the Bureau of War Expositions for the government during the war and, in the course of his long experience, has been successful in managing the Home Beautiful and Building Trades Exposition in Boston, the Knitting Arts Exposition in Philadelphia, the International Textile Exposition in Boston, the Pennsylvania Shoe Style Show at Atlantic City and many others. With such a background to draw from General Manager Campbell has a rich experience to bring to bear on the New England Hotel Men's Exposition.

JUDGE FAWCETT WANTS RELIGION

The latest plea for the Sunday school comes from Supreme Court Justice Lewis L. Fawcett, of Brooklyn, who has had eighteen years' experience in the County and Supreme Courts. For the past seven years he has been trying cases in the Supreme Court, New York State.

"In the eighteen years of my experience on the bench," Judge Fawcett says, "More than 4,000 less than twenty-one years old have been arraigned before me charged with various degrees of crime. Of this 4,000, only three were members of a Sunday School at the time of the commission of their crimes.

"Even these three exceptional cases were technical in character and devoid of heinousness, so that they are scarcely worth mentioning.

"In 1,902 suspended criminal sentences, only sixty-two of the young men were brought back for violation of the conditions of their paroles. In each suspended sentence case I insisted upon the return of the youth if he was a Protestant, to a Sunday School; if a Roman Catholic, to attendance at mass, and if a Jew, to attendance at a synagogue or a temple. In each instance I had the earnest co-operation of the minister, the priest or the rabbi, and in each case I saw to it that the young man had a job to go to as soon as he was freed on parole. In virtually all of the suspended sentence cases the reform was quick and, I believe, permanent.

"If we could keep the youth of America in Sunday school during the period of character formation, or at regular attendance upon religious worship, we could close the criminal courts and the jails. There would be no 'raw materials' to work on. And what is good for the youth would be equally salutary with adults. The sustained, wholesome, moral atmosphere imparted through habitual attendance upon Sunday school and church will expel criminal impulses. "Any man not contributing to the support of some church or organized religious work is living on charity—riding on some other man's transportation. If he really desires abatement of crime he should ally himself with those agencies which prevent or abate crime."

Young, which occurred Thursday evening, March 5, at Dr. Young's hospital, 788 Massachusetts Avenue. Mrs. Young was born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1874, daughter of Charles and Eliza J. (Thwing) Pike. In 1896 she married Dr. Young in Cambridge, after which the couple went to New York to reside. Twenty-six years ago they came to Arlington, Dr. Young continuing the practice of medicine. In 1910 the doctor, aided by his efficient wife, who had taken up the study of nursing, opened her private hospital where Mrs. Young became its superintendent. She brought to her work a keen sense of the requirements of her difficult position and she became so successful in the discharge of her duties, because of her cheery personality, that no patient ever left the hospital without feeling a deep gratitude to her. Mrs. Young's life has touched that of many in her kindly ministrations, many of whom heard with regret her prostration of last November from which she never rallied. She made a good fight under losing conditions, but she held to her optimistic views to the end.

Her work so splendidly administered has been carried on by the only daughter of the Youngs, Rena, who graduated from Wellesley College in 1921. The son of the couple, Kenneth Young, is now studying at the Long Island Hospital in Brooklyn, N.

REPORT OF THE LECTURE
On Christian Science Given in Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

Robbins Memorial Town Hall was well filled on Monday evening of this week when Richard J. Davis, C. S., of Chicago, Illinois, a member of the board of lecturship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston, gave a lecture under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist of Cambridge. Nearly the entire audience was from out of town. The lecturer held the closest attention of his audience while the teachings of Christian Science as taught by Mrs. Eddy, quoting considerably from Science and Health. Mr. William P. Strong gave piano numbers before the opening and at the close of the lecture. The ushers were Mr. Torrance Parker of Belmont, head usher; Herbert Stanger of Arlington, Isaac Hammond, Charles Willis, Benjamin Pray, John Giles and John H. Thurston of Cambridge, D. T. Taunton of Belmont and A. T. Lewis of Watertown. Mr. Giles M. Smith of Belmont presided during the lecture and introduced the speaker.

The following is an excerpt of the lecture:

One of the distinctive features of Christian Science is the fact that the power to heal and regenerate mankind is open to all. It is yours to-night. It belongs to no privileged class or group of people. It is true that there are thousands of consecrated men and women who are devoting their lives to the ministry or practice of healing as taught in Christian Science, but to-night any one of you, earnestly seeking Truth, may commence the study of Christian Science and its actual practice, up to your highest light. To-night you may begin to approximate the understanding of Christian Science and apply it in your life and the problems of your daily living. Do you believe it blasphemous to assume the right and power to heal as Jesus did? Do you believe that Christian Scientists are assuming too much in their loving endeavor to lift the heavy burdens of their brothers and let the oppressed go free? Shall Christian Scientists be criticized for their effort to completely fulfill the injunction of the Master to heal the sick? Are we so remote from God, so separated in belief? Have they taken away our Lord that we know not where they have laid him? People strangely marvel at what they call miraculous manifestations of divine power. But why should they marvel? Should it surprise us to see concrete evidence of that one omnipotent God who governs the universe and man in perfect harmony and order? The works of healing and regeneration seem incredible only because humanity has continued on its sorrowing, suffering way in ignorance of its Redeemer. "God is not in all [their] thoughts." The operation of God's law should seem the most natural thing on earth to us. If God is All and ever-present, should we not have that attitude which naturally expects to see the power and glory of God manifest at every hand?

If the Bible statement, "In him we live, and move, and have our being," be true, and logic and reason coincide with revelation in declaring that it is, how, it may well be asked, can humanity expect to go through life, day after day and year after year with hardly a thought as to that divine, all-inclusive presence in whom we actually exist? Is God to be left out of His own creation? Is man a separate and separated entity revolving in an orbit of his own? The Psalmist said, "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? ... If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me." As has been said before, Jesus declared, "I and my Father are one." This is no separation but a distinct and eternal unity and he demonstrated its value to the race by his works. Christian Science teaches that all men will sooner or later be awakened out of this false sense of separation and realize that to know and love God, Mind, and demonstrate our unity with that Mind must be the dominating motive of our lives. Godless living with its inevitable results, sin, sickness, and death, forces men eventually to turn to Spirit for a solution of their problems, but why wait to be forced? Thousands of people to-day are turning from the flesh-pots of materialism and are coming to God through the understanding of Christian Science, instead of the way of suffering.

As a first step in this direction let us assure ourselves of our love for God, good. Do we really love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our might, and with all our mind? With the materiality of modern life so clouding spiritual sense, how often through the day do most people think of God, even for a moment? Without question almost all will say that they very much need and desire the love of God, but to what extent are they loving Him? At this first step in growth a young student may frequently remind himself, "I do love Thee, God, with all my heart and what I most desire is a knowledge of Thee and of Thy law." This child-like turning to the Father-Mother God, this sincere desire for righteousness, is the beginning of true prayer in Christian Science.

Christian Science commences where it finds us, it may be in sin, disease, or poverty, and begins right there the process of redemption and salvation. This redemption of the individual is not accomplished in a moment, by a kind of supernatural transformation of human beings into angels of light, rather is it the gradual and daily putting off of evil and erroneous ways of thinking, replacing them with thoughts that have their being in the one God, divine Mind. There is no record in the Bible that Jesus instantaneously turned people into saints. He met the immediate need, destroyed the specific disease or sin, and then said, "Go, and sin no more"—clear evidence that the process of salvation was to be continued by the individual, in better ways of thinking and living until all evil disappeared. The life of Christ Jesus revealed the way of salvation but it remains for each one of us to study that Christ-way in the Bible and Science and Health and then, up to our highest light, endeavor to walk in it.

You will note that I speak of the study of Christian Science, of study as contrasted with reading. My acquaintance with Christian Science goes back many years, to early boyhood, in fact. During these years I have discussed the subject with many people. Every now and then I meet an individual who, when Christian Science is mentioned, will say, "Christian Science—oh, yes, I've looked into Christian Science, but there's nothing in it." Looked in? Looked into Christian Science, the Science of all Truth or true being! What estimate do you suppose people would place upon me as a thinker if I were to so casually remark, "Mathematics—oh, yes, I've looked into the science of mathematics, but there's nothing in it."

My friends, Christian Science is a science, the demonstrable Science of being, and it has to be studied. There is no other way to get it. As in our academic work we study the science of mathematics, and step by step, master certain of the basic rules and then proceed to apply them to the common mathematical problems that come into our experience, so is it with Christian Science. Here a little, there a little, through study of the textbook, together with the Bible, we acquire a growing knowledge of the divine Principle which we may apply and find available in the minutest details of human living. Let us take for instance the all too prevalent tendency to lose one's temper. Few of those afflicted with this unpleasant habit wish to keep it. Many struggle to overcome it and suffer great remorse whenever it seems to manifest itself. King Solomon never spoke a truer word than when he said in Proverbs, "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that killeth a city." Quick temper, as we all know, is often the cause of broken friendships, unhappiness in families, and discordant relations in church and business. Just as soon as one commences the study of Christian Science, however, he begins to see the true meaning of self-control, real self-government; that divine Mind being the only intelligence of man can and will govern and control every thought and motive aright. He discovers how to check this disposition, as people often say, "to fly off the handle" and to maintain the poise and peace of spiritual dominion. In Christian Science we perceive that hasty temper sometimes arises from a too ready impulse to misunderstand our brother's motives or jump to a conclusion without having thoughtfully considered all the elements concerned. Even a slight perception that divine Love alone governs man shows us how to restrain our impatience. It shows us, too, how to stop and say to ourselves, "Now see here, this man even though he entertains a point of view different from my own is entitled to his opinion. If he is wrong certainly no exercise of anger, force, or human will is going to convert him to my way of thinking. Besides, my own thought in this matter may be wrong, and if it is, I want to give it up, because I would not willingly hold to any erroneous or unintelligent way of looking at things." Checking ourselves in this way, we naturally learn to respect another's opinion. Resentment, intolerance, and self-will are cast out and replaced by the mental qualities of brotherliness, poise, and forbearance. The way opens up for a mutual understanding of the point under consideration. With anger out of the way, all parties concerned see and think clearly, and unanimity of thought is finally manifested. Complete dominion over temper and irritability may not be attained at once, but it is a blessed thing to start this overcoming process. Thousands of people can testify that gradually through the earnest application and study of Christian Science real success in this direction has been achieved.

Henry George, who may be called the prophet of the "single tax" idea, and Cardinal Manning were on very friendly terms. The Cardinal once remarked to George "I love men because Jesus Christ loved them;" to which George instantly replied "And I love Jesus Christ because he loved men." Unitarians think Mr. George's way, in this matter, is better than the Cardinal's. Our respect for our fellows ought to be our own; the natural, first-handed recognition and appreciation of such good as we see in them. Having this, we shall the more readily welcome and be inspired by the love for men which shines forth from the deeds and words of Jesus Christ.

✚ Lenten Thoughts ✚

Beginning this week, this paper will set aside a place in its edition in which some of the ministers of Arlington will present a "Lenten Thought," that we hope will lead our readers to a realization of the deep significance of this season; and to those who are not able to attend church services a helpful message.

Realizing that Arlington has more ministers than there are weeks before Easter, we have asked one minister from each denomination to contribute.

Rev. Don Ivan Patch opens the series this week. He will be followed next week by Dr. Henry Sterling Potter, representing the Baptist denomination in the town; Rev. Archiver J. Strait will contribute the week of March 23, representing the Methodist churches; Rev. Charles F. Patterson of the First Universalist church and Rev. Mathew Flaherty of St. Agnes Catholic church have been asked to contribute their Lenten Thought in our issue of April 3. Dr. Frederic Gill, minister of the First Parish (Unitarian) church and Rev. Charles Taber Hall, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, the oldest ministers in town in point of service, will write for our Holy Week edition.

"THE REALITY OF LENT."
Rev. Don Ivan Patch,
Minister of Orthodox Congregational Church

Life seems at times almost prodigal in her gifts to us. However, experiences of keen delight and unsullied joy are infrequent and few. Only once in a great while are we privileged to enjoy precious moments, days or seasons of divine exaltation. One day Jesus took Peter and James and John away from the confusion and noisy multitude to a mountain top. Here they were granted a never to be forgotten experience of joy. They found themselves in the presence of two great spirits from the past and of a transfigured Master and Lord. And Peter said to Jesus: "It is good for us to be here."

Now and again our own hearts voice the same simple gratitude over simpler experience and we say: "It is good for us to be here." That afternoon at the Symphony, it seemed as if the instruments and the souls of the players harmonized with the invisible spirit of the composer. We were conscious of a relationship with reality beyond that of the common day. That summer day when we stood on the shelf of sand on the ocean's shore and looked out across the broad blue of the sea, we felt ourselves lifted above the pettiness of life into a realm of peace and rest. That day upon Round Top at Northfield when we heard the voice of the speaker attempting to restate thoughts of God, we felt indeed that it was good for us to be there.

Such a season is Lent. We live again the life of our Lord, we walk with Him the ways of Galilee, the shores of the lake, the streets of the city. We are conscious of His untiring zeal for the welfare of humanity. We see Him anxious to assuage pain, renew inspiration and cleanse sin. Our eyes are wide with wonder at His courage on the way to Jerusalem; we marvel at His faith as He prays in Gethsemane; we weep with those who loved Him as they kneel before His cross. With the centurion we cry aloud: "Truly this man was the Son of God."

As we live these latter days of the life of Jesus with Him and attempt to resee Him, we are in some measure transformed by the Spirit of our Lord. Because we have been near Him in thought for these days we are more like Him. We can face our Gethsemaries more bravely; we can carry our crosses more courageously; we can forgive our enemies more graciously.

Together Jesus and His disciples made their way down the mountain. There they were met by a boy grievously ill with epilepsy and Jesus stopped to heal Him. The experiences of the mountain always fit us for further sacrificing service for others. Precious seasons of divine exaltation are given that we may mediate them in practical service to those who need our aid and help.

This is the reality of Lent. Here we walk with God and know that He is good. Here we find new life to serve His children.

Reach up as far as you can through the darkness, and God will reach down all the rest of the way.

Nothing but infinite pity is sufficient for the infinite pathos of human life.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

"Lazybones," one of Owen Davis' most successful plays and considered by the author his best, will be presented by the Boston Stock Company next week at the St. James Theatre for the first time in Boston. It is Managing Director Giles' policy, whenever possible and wise, to give to Boston first presentations of New York successes, that in many instances would otherwise never be seen by Boston audiences. "Lazybones" has been termed by the critics as a second "Lightnin'." The "Lightnin'" touch is in the plot. John Collier will be "Lazybones," a New England village "Lightnin'" shiftless aimless and yet, withal with a heart of gold. An early romance is shattered, his name is brought into ill-repute throughout the countryside and still he stands in silence. Mr. Davis' characters are true to life, but in spite of this, however, all is induced to end happily. John Collier has his first big character part of the season as "Steve Tuttle," the lovable ne'er-do well. George Abbott originally played this role. Elsie Hitz, leading lady, will be "Kit," the foundling. Anna Layng will be "Martha Tuttle;" Houston Richards, "Dick Rich;" Louis Leon Hall, "Lew Sisler;" the other members are well cast.

The Women's Missionary and Social Union of the First Baptist church met in the Chapel Monday afternoon. The President, Mrs. Munroe, conducted the devotional exercises and business meeting. Mrs. Edwin Allen rendered a group of piano selections to a very appreciative audience. A program upon "Christian Stewardship" was given by members of the society, and proved most helpful and interesting. The next meeting in April is the annual one, with election of officers.

Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus has started rehearsals for the annual minstrel show and the affair started off with great satisfaction to those in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Nazro of Pleasant street, are on a trip to South America with one of the Cook tours, which left Boston February 28th.

At the meeting of the Boston Market Gardeners Association last Friday evening at Horticultural hall, Arthur P. Wyman of this town was re-elected president.

The County Chairman. Mrs. Atta Evans has the very congenial part of Mrs. Rigby, which brings out the finer emotions of which she is worthy.

The County Chairman has made a discovery. Mr. Partridge has found some responsive talent in the embryo in Miss Martha Pray. She is certain to register a hit this Friday evening.

Mrs. E. H. Colman has been entertaining Mrs. Frank Hubbard in New York City, where the former is occupying an apartment of a friend for several months during her absence from the city.

The County Chairman affords Walter Chamberlain his first big chance and his many friends will see him at his best. The performance comes this evening. Dancing follows the show.

The choir at St. Agnes Church will present "Peg O My Heart" in Robbins Memorial town hall next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the church school building fund. On Monday evening there will be a special presentation for the children.

Early Friday morning, Patrolman Archie Bullock recovered an automobile of the sedan type on Lake street, the machine having been stolen in Boston the night previous. The machine was turned over to the Boston police.

Lieut. Daniel M. Hooley, with Patrolmen Donovan, Burns, Mahoney, Bullock and Meagher raided the home of Dominic Rosselli at 109 Magnolia street and confiscated three barrels of wine. A complaint was asked for in court. The case will probably come up next week.

The County Chairman has two actors, whom we might say got their start with a circus, much like Fred Stone, being none other than Edward and Walter Hutchinson, Jr. Their famous clown band with the Arlington Circus and later with the Somerville Circus was a gem.

Mr. Harold L. Frost, who has been spending several weeks in Florida on business, is back in Arlington. Mr. Frost is interested in several orange groves in the south. While in Florida, Mr. Frost was a guest for a time of Mr. Warren Freeman, the brother of Mrs. Frost.

The Bradshaw Missionary Society of the Orthodox Congregational church will hold a sewing meeting at the church on Friday, March 20th, at 10 o'clock. Luncheon to be served at 1 o'clock. The meeting is to be one of special importance and the members are urged to attend.

"The God of the New Renaissance" will be the subject of the morning sermon by Rev. Charles F. Patterson at the First Universalist Church Sunday. "The Fool," a drama lecture illustrated by many slides from the stage production, will be given by the pastor in the evening at 7:15.

Many were attracted by the big fire in Everett on Monday evening. It was plainly visible from Arlington and those on the higher elevations got a rare view. The dense smoke, with the flames leaping through it from the burning oil, made a striking picture.

The firemen were called out Monday for a grass fire in the Highland avenue section. Monday evening Box 212 called the firemen to a garage owned by David Scanlan, 35 North Union street. The fire, which had gotten a good start, did considerable damage before it was extinguished. Estimated at about $200.

The pulpit of the Unitarian church will be occupied on Sunday morning by Rev. Henry Wilder Foote, of Belmont, with whom Dr. Gill exchanges that day. Mr. Foote, who formerly was one of the faculty of the Theological School of Harvard University, is also executive secretary of the centennial committee of the American Unitarian Association.

The County Chairman renews an old time association, Ray Mauger and W. O. Partridge, Jr. Mr. Mauger was undoubtedly the greatest teacher for the High School Athletic Association, some years back, and realized more artistically and financially than any other chairman. It was at that time that Mr. Partridge had all of the Athletic Association and Senior boys under his direction.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Wood were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Minard at the latter's home in Hopkinton, Mass., over the weekend. Mr. Wood, who has been one of the victims of the grippe for nearly four weeks, has resumed his business activities with the American Educational Association, of which Dr. Eaton, an uncle of Mrs. Walter Mooers, of Hopkins road, is the president.

The Women's Missionary and Social Union of the First Baptist church met in the Chapel Monday afternoon. The President, Mrs. Munroe, conducted the devotional exercises and business meeting. Mrs. Edwin Allen rendered a group of piano selections to a very appreciative audience. A program upon "Christian Stewardship" was given by members of the society, and proved most helpful and interesting. The next meeting in April is the annual one, with election of officers.

Our Arlington boys at college continue to have honors bestowed upon them. Last week Dick Rideout, son of C. A. Rideout, was elected captain of the Andover Hockey team. Edward Frost of this town, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Frost, played on the team the past season and won his letter.

Herbert (Hubba) Collins, former athlete of the High school and now coach of the various teams at Natick, has been confined to his home for a week with an attack of the grippe.

This (Friday) afternoon the girls' basketball team is playing the Everett High school team here. This game is not in the league. The closing match of the league will be played with Watertown High at Watertown, on Friday afternoon, March 20.

Now that the ice is gone and the days are getting milder, interest is turning to baseball, the greatest of all outdoor sports. The High school candidates as well as the local teams are getting under way. Talk is prevalent of a twilight league. The only thing necessary for the formation of such a team is the backing of the townspeople. It takes money. Balls must be purchased and equipment bought; umpires must be hired besides other expenses that go with every game. There is plenty of excellent material here for such a team.

CHAMPIONSHIP CLINCHED.ARLINGTON HEADS THE LIST

The Girl's basketball team of the High school clinched the championship of the Greater Boston Basketball League on last Friday afternoon by giving Melrose girls a very decisive beating, Arlington winning 44 to 13. Championships are becoming numerous with the High school teams this season, so this honor rests lightly on their shoulders. They have previously won championships and therefore are not puffed up over this latest win.

In the game Friday, the Melrose team came here with a lot of rooters and started in to give the Arlington girls a good trimming, for Melrose took the lead in the first quarter, the quarter ending 9 to 4 in favor of that team.

With the opening of the second quarter, Arlington girls got busy with piling up their score and before the game ended they had run up the highest score of the season. Team work played an important part in winning this game and the girls were at their best. Throws were perfect and the girls took lots of time making their passes. The two forwards, on whose shoulders rests the task of making all the goals, did a good job, proving they can be relied on for team work as well as the rest of the team. Miss Burns caged 13 baskets; Miss Corcoran caged nine. It was a very well played game and while it was hard fought, there were very few fouls called by the referees. The summary:

ARLINGTON H. S. MELROSE H. S.
Corcoran rt. 100 Burns rt. 100
Bourne, O'Neil rt. 100 Lally, Hunter
Malatesta, Dugan sc. 80 Stevens, Taylor

Score: Arlington High Girls 44; Melrose
High Girls 13.

The High school basketball team took the Mitchell Military School boys into camp on last Friday evening in the local gymnasium, winning out by a score of 53 to 6. Arlington was not put to its best at any time. The game was so easy that they were inclined to play more or less loosely. The defeat was only the second one of the season for the boys from Billerica and they felt it keenly. From the start it was evident that Arlington was too much for the visitors. The Mitchell school scored four points in the first quarter and then did not make a score until the last quarter, when they caged another basket. During the last half Coach Henricus used three of his second string men, each giving good account of himself.

As an opener for the game, the Junior High center team played the High school second team, which proved a real contest. The two teams met earlier in the season and the Junior High won. Friday night the High School second team won, but they had to fight for it gallantly. Just to give an idea how the game ran:—At the end of the first period A. H. S. 2nd 6. Junior High 5; end of second period, tie score, nine and nine; end of third period, Junior High 13, A. H. S. 2nd 11, and end of fourth period, A. H. S. 2nd 19, Junior High 19. The high school team had to extend themselves to defeat this scrappy Junior High team. The third game of the series will be played at an early date. The summary of the main game:—

RIFLE CLUB CONTEST

The Arlington Rifle Club gained another victory to add to their growing list on last Friday evening, when they went to the Armory of Battery F, 1st Corps Cadets, in Boston. The match was very close one, the local team winning by but nine points. Chambers of the Arlington team made the best score with 95 out of a possible 100. The summary:—

BOWLING

In the Community Club of Arlington Bowling League series, rolled last Friday evening on the Arlington Alleys, Rouse of Team C carried off the honors for the high single string with 118, while Christensen of Team A was the high three string man with 301. In the matches Team A won all four points from Team B; Team D won four from Team F; Team C split even with Team E.

The Town Bowling league standing did not change any as a result of the matches rolled on the Arlington Alleys Thursday evening of last week. The Elks, by taking three points from the Regent Alley team, got away from its close call at the top of the league. The Knights of Columbus team lost three points to the Town team but are still in second place. The standing to date is:—Elks 42 games, Knights of Columbus 38; Town Team 35 and Regent Alley 32. In the matches on last Thursday evening, John Keefe of the Town Team rolled the highest three string total with 303 and Carty of the Regent Alley team rolled the high single string with 115.

The bowlers of the Amateur Boston Pin League held a banquet at the Boston City Club on Monday evening as a grand wind-up of the season. Willis Baker of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association team, was the center of all attraction and was given a great ovation. It has been definitely established that Baker, at the close of the season, established two new world's records. Holder of the previous world's record of 119 42-63, Baker broke this record with 121 8-48. In the last match of the season with Medford four strings had to be rolled and here again Baker established a new world's record, his average for the four strings being 135 3-4.

The Calvary Methodist Church bowling team, leaders in the Inter-Church Bowling League, got a setback Monday night in the matches rolled on the Arlington Alleys, losing all four points to the Davis' Best team of the Heights Baptist Church. The good lead obtained earlier in the season made it possible for the team to take this loss and still hold first position. The Heights Methodist Church still holds second place, splitting even with the A. F. G. Brotherhood of the Heights Baptist Church. William Solomon, anchor man for the Heights Methodist team, tied the season's record of 136; Hawes of the A. F. G. Team having set this mark early in the season. George LaRock of the Davis team of the Heights Baptist Church set a new three string record with 326. The matches resulted as follows:—Davis' team won four points from the Calvary Methodist church; Heights Methodist and A. F. G. Brotherhood broke even; Team A of the Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal) won four from the Heights Congregational church; and Team B of the Church of Our Saviour won four from the Heights Baptist team.

In one of the greatest bowling matches in the history of amateur bowling in this state, the Middlesex Sportsman's Association team and the Medford club battled on the Cottage Park Yacht Club Alleys in Winthrop, last Friday night, for the championship of the Amateur Boston Pin League. The two teams tied for first place at the end of the season, after Medford had held top place for several weeks. The match was looked forward to with great expectations and those who watched the match were not disappointed in thrills. The Medford club won the first string by ten pins, the second string by one pin, while M. S. A. won the third string by 23 points. The totals counted and the teams tied again, Medford rolling 1685 and M. S. A. 1697. It was decided then that a fourth string be rolled and here was where Medford shone for they won 608 to 579. Willis Baker, anchor man for the M. S. A., was at his best in this match and was the star performer of either team. He made what is considered to be a world's record for Boston pins, averaging 135% for the four strings, after getting a total of 165 in his first string and 159 in the final string. This contest gave the title to Medford and M. S. A. must be content with second place. The scores are interesting as they show some very fine bowling and are as follows:—

AN EXCITING ENCOUNTER

WITH MR. SKUNK

It isn't often that the tired business men of the center district of the town (above the railroad track) have something of excitement or amusement when they close up at night. Saturday night was an exception to this rule, when a little furry animal, pretty to look at, but at the same time dangerous in one sense of the word to touch, furnished both amusement and excitement for over a half an hour. Some of the stores had closed but others were still open. The pretty little black and white animal with long bushy tail, calmly walked up the driveway leading to the railroad station. He was soon sighted and those who saw him first withdrew to a safe distance. The animal was polite, however, and he did not announce his arrival as is often the case.

From safe distances his audience watched him go from one store to the other, walk to the door, look in and then stand on his hind legs and look into the windows. Evidently he had lost something and was trying to find it, or then again, maybe he had forgotten to get his Sunday dinner and was looking into the shop windows to see what he could pick up at the last minute. The window of the Hart Bakery attracted him for some time, but he finally left and started toward Blake's ice cream parlor. It was then that the crowd started to dismiss rapidly for they had been watching the visit from in front of Mr. Blake's store.

One of the onlookers suggested throwing a stone at the animal to frighten him away. Evidently this person had never aroused a skunk's ire. Those who had scented a mad skunk advised the party to run from the stone throwing so emphatically that he curbed his desire which no doubt saved the writing of a second chapter to this story. After giving every indication that Mr. Skunk intended to enter Blake's, he evidently had a change of heart and started down toward the station where he was lost sight of in the darkness. The crowd did not wait to see if Mr. Skunk returned.

LEGION NOTES

On March 4, 1925, one of our valued Comrades passed away, after a long illness. He was born in North Andover, February 12, 1895, but had lived in Arlington for seventeen years. Comrade Daniel C. Cameron was a graduate of the Arlington High School and of Tufts College, 1917. He enlisted for service during the World War on September 5, 1918, at Arlington, Mass., and was honorably discharged September 5, 1919, at Fort Williams, Maine, with the rank of Sergeant, Medical Detachment, U. S. Army.

After services at his late home, Comrade Cameron was given a military funeral by his Comrades of Arlington Post 39. The American Legion Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, where a volley was fired and taps blown for our Comrade.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. F. V. Cutler, of Mt. Vernon street.

Out of Respect for Comrade Daniel C. Cameron, the remainder of the usual Legion Notes will be omitted this week.

JAMES DOUGHTY HEADS ARLINGTON B. P. O. E.

Popular Young Man Elected Exalted Ruler of Elks at Annual Meeting Held Wednesday Evening. Large Number of Members Enjoyed Excellent Dinner.

Arlington Lodge of Elks held its annual election of officers in G. A. R. Hall on Wednesday evening, choosing James E. Doughty, by unanimous vote, for the head of the lodge for the next year. There was one good natured contest for one office during the evening. The officers chosen were:—Joseph W. Swain, E. L. K.; John J. Foley, E. L. K.; Richard L. Powers, E. L. K.; Francis L. Dalton, secretary; Joseph M. Ahearn, treasurer; Daniel J. Hurley, tiler; Walter H. Peirce, trustee for three years, John F. Collins, delegate to the grand lodge convention and H. Wesley Curtis, alternate.

Previous to the meeting, a dinner was served in the lower hall by the lodge stewards, this feature being attended by a very large number who sat down to a roast beef dinner.

During the business session, the lodge voted to take part in the April 19th celebration here and also join the committee in charge of the World War Memorial. A large number of new candidates were elected and there will be an initiation at the next meeting. Winthrop lodge will be the guests of the local lodge on March 30 and Arlington lodge will visit Winthrop lodge on March 25, leaving here by automobile at 6:45 on that evening. The committee in charge of the recent bazaar made its report, showing that the home fund had been boosted to the extent of $1,500 for the two day's affair.

During the evening, Thomas Quinn, who is well known to the radio fans, and who lives in Cambridge, entertained with vocal members. J. Frank Keating, of Boston, gave a short talk relative to a proposed baseball league through Greater Boston.

The new exalted ruler of the lodge is well known in town. He is an attorney and lives at 2 Harvard street, Arlington Heights. Mr. Doughty was one of the founders of the local lodge and has taken very active interest in its work since it was started. The installation exercises will be held at the April meeting.

TWO MEN CUT IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Fred Terraglio of 2 Smith street was cut on the nose and William J. Flynn of 10 Roache street, Dorchester, received a cut on the head in an automobile accident on Mass. avenue, just above Daniels street, Monday afternoon. Terraglio was riding with Roy Harrow of 11 Arnold street, who was driving toward Park avenue. Flynn was riding with Jessie W. Moody of 44 Emery street, Medford Hillside. Mr. Moody drove out of a private way onto the avenue just as an electric car came along. In trying to get out of the way of the car, Moody swung his machine over too far and hit the Harrow machine. Both machines were badly damaged. The two men were treated at the office of Dr. Francis E. Talty.

WHY NOT PUT SPY POND FIELD IN CONDITION FOR SPORTS?

It has been suggested among a large number who are deeply interested in the physical training of our young people, that at this time of the year it would be a good thing for the town to have a steam roller go over the Spy Pond field to roll it into some degree of smoothness. The soft places could be made to some degree more firm and then filling put in to make the field playable. The section used for the baseball diamond is in fairly good condition and if rolled could be made one of the best diamonds in the state. The outfield needs repairs badly and with very little expense could also be made playable. The section used by the girls for their field hockey games, beggars description. It is remarkable that more girls are not hurt playing the game over the humpy rough surface of the field. At a very small expense all this could be righted.

DWELLING ON FIRE

The firemen were called out on Tuesday evening for a serious fire in the double house, 37 and 39 Cleveland street, owned by Otto Olson and occupied by George Mahoney and family and John Seilg and family. The fire evidently started near the hot water heater and soon worked into the walls and ate up through to the roof, where it mushroomed the whole top of the house. The firemen were given a stiff battle and deserve a lot of praise for the manner in which they handled the situation.

The house, in a thickly settled section of the town, was damaged to the extent of having a hole burned up through the roof and some of the furniture of both families was wet down and suffered from smoke, all to the extent of probably $2000. The fire caused a lot of excitement in that section on account of the congestion of houses, but the firemen were stationed on adjoining houses to watch for sparks and roof fires.

FIRST PUBLIC REHEARSAL OF THE M. S. ASS'N BAND

Proved To The Satisfaction Of All
Who Heard It That Much Progress
Has Been Made.

Those who journeyed to the club house of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association last Friday evening to listen to the first public rehearsal of the newly organized band of the M. S. A., were amply repaid for the trip. The hall was filled and the band did itself proud. As all the players are experienced, the audience was an inspiration to them. Consequently they were at their best. The club has won many honors in various lines of activity. Now it is about to receive another star in its crown with the band which has become identified with the club.

William Fish, a recent arrival in our town, and a man of long experience in band music and organization, started this band last fall. He found that Arlington contained a number of talented musicians. The matter was taken up with the officers of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association and the result was that an invitation was issued all players in the town to join in. There is now a fine band organized and rehearsing each week at the club house. The business for the year was cleaned up, new members elected and the officers that are to be chosen at the April meeting will start in with a clean slate and a good working balance in the treasury. Arrangements for the next meeting were made and it was voted to make this a big social session, with local musical talent and a professional entertainer. Rufus W. Blake will have charge of the dinner program.

BASKETBALL GAME TONIGHT

When The High School Team Takes On Lynn Gen'l Electric Team.

The High school basketball team faces one of the hardest games of its history this (Friday) evening in the High school gymnasium. The team has been handicapped from the fact that no school teams seem to want to book them up, so they have taken on the Lynn General Electric team for the contest. The local team has been going good and we know all about them. The Lynn team has gone through a wonderful season, with a long string of victories. Arlington High will have to work hard and a close game is anticipated.

PUPILS OF JUNIOR HIGH CENTER

Give The First Contribution To Preserve "Old Ironsides."

In response to the appeal of Secretary Wilbur for funds for the preservation of the Constitution or "Old Ironsides" in a recent issue of a Boston paper, the pupils of the Junior High Center who read the appeal, were anxious to help and raised a sum. When they applied for information at the Navy Yard as to where the money should be sent, they were informed that theirs was the first school in New England to respond to the call for voluntary funds. The pupils are to be commended for their interest in the historic ship and for the support of the appeal.

MRS. CURTIS WATERMAN

Resigns As Commissioner Of Girl
Scout Council. Mrs. Philip H.

The Annual Meeting of the Girl Scout Council was held at the home of Mrs. Eames, 24 Irving street, Tuesday morning. There were interesting reports from all the committees. The Council will sponsor the erection of a building on their camp site at Cedar Hill, in the near future, so that it may be in use by the Scouts this season.

Much to the regret of the Council, Mrs. Curtis Waterman, who has been Commissioner since the council was organized in Arlington, resigned, and Mrs. Philip H. Johnson was elected as her successor.

CONDUCTING DRIVE FOR FIVE THOUSAND MEMBERS

Arlington District Nursing Association, in Enthusiastic Campaign, Hopes to Attain That Goal by May 1st. Every Interested Citizen Asked to Enroll.

Enthusiasm for the successful promotion of the drive of the Arlington District Nursing Association for 5,000 new members by May 1 is growing by leaps and bounds, according to Miss Inez Fletcher, executive secretary of the general committee in charge. More than a dozen representative organizations of the community have heard from spokesmen for the association of the movement to make it a real community enterprise, and while no official endorsement of the drive has been asked or given, numerous individuals in all the groups reached directly thus far have volunteered their financial support and active service.

The Board of Trade is the most recent acquisition to the growing list of supporters of this needful and needy organization. Specific plans looking to definite methods of cooperation have been submitted to the officers of the Board of Trade and by them to the members. Returns thus far are unanimous in commendation and willingness to enlist.

"Five thousand more members in a town of 25,000, all of whom are invited to call upon the association for professional service at any time," said Miss Fletcher, "seems very few to the active nucleus already recruited for the drive. What we are going to need, perhaps more than anything else, is a sufficient number of interested workers to 'get out the vote,'

M. S. A. TEAM TIED WITH HUNNEWELL TEAM

The standings of the bowling teams in the Newton league were given quite a jolt on Wednesday evening and the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, by taking all four points from the B. A. A. team, jumped from third place to a tie for first place with the Hunnewell team. The Maugus team went into second place and the B. A. A. dropped down the list. Wilson of the M. S. A. team rolled a total of 350 for his three strings in this match.
